What People Say

Teach One to Lead One® Students

“I really enjoy this program; it has taught me so many ways to solve my problems without the use of violence. It made me be a better and more respectful person to myself and others around me —I would still want this program to be around when my son is in high school for he would learn the good things that I have learned.”
—Esperanza, 17 year old

“My attitude changed so much that my mother thought I was sick. I said no, I’m just thinking about the consequences of my actions before I do them. This program has made a difference in my life.”
—Jon, 15 year old

“Teach One to Lead One has made a positive impact in my life. I have stopped doing drugs, sneaking out late at night, lying to my family, and all that bad stuff. It has put me on the right track. Thank you for sending her [the program facilitator] to our school. She is the reason that I have started coming to school.”
—Sac, 14 year old

School Administrators and Volunteers

“I cannot give you statistics yet on how the students have changed since they started participating in Teach One to Lead One. All that I know is that the time that I spend on disciplinary referrals has significantly gone down in comparison to the school years before the program was in my school.”
—High School Principal

“This program added to the educational process. It is not just paper and pencil, it is important to learn how to deal with your fellow peers. The CLI team showed the importance of principles. I have seen a change in the behavior of my students. They have improved emotionally and behaviorally.”
—High School Teacher

“After hearing how he responded to the questions in the class, and how he behaved during their cleaning-the-school project, I decided to hire him in my store. I don’t usually hire 14 year olds.”
—Classroom Volunteer Mentor

Juvenile Court Authorities

“The Teach One to Lead One program has been a powerful therapeutic group for the juveniles I have referred. Even one negative male who fought going called me to tell me it was ‘pretty cool’ and he is glad I made him go. I wish continued growth and success to Teach One to Lead One.”
